The Attorney General
United States Department of Justice
Washington, D. C.

Jacqueline Kennedy

Dear Bob:

With reference to your letter dated June 1, 1964, I thought you would like to know that I met with Mr. William Manchester this morning for approximately one hour and fifteen minutes. Our discussion was quite detailed in every respect. At the same time, however, it was somewhat sad in view of the necessary review of the late President's death.

I found Mr. Manchester to be quite thorough; however, very pleasant and friendly.

Sincerely,

Edgar
